The success of our Furniture Selling is attributable largely to the fact that every article we offer is exactly as we represent it to be. There is no business wherein confidence plays so great a part as in Furniture. As an example, we saw advertised the other day

" A 3-Piece Solid Mahogany Inlaid Divan Suit, Upholstered in Silk Damask, $23.50; Regular Price, $37.50."

We bought one of these suits, and found it to be ordinary wood stained in IMITATION OF MA-HOGANY. We have the same goods, from the same maker, which we will close at $17.50.

In addition we will sell 31 of the original REAL SOLID MAHOG-ANY SUITS at $23.50. These are really worth $37.50.

TABLE DAMASKS.

A Newspaper View of Our Reorganized and Remodelled Department.

To the average individual the purchase of household linen simply means selecting from an assortment of Scotch and Irish goods. That the French excel in the manufacture of fine damasks is a revelation to many, and is being exemplified in Frederick Losser & Co.'s store. Their department of fine linen has been entirely reorganized and remodelled.

Changes of this cost to bis description.

fine linen has been entirely reorganized and remodelled.

Changes of this sort in big dry goods houses are usually meant to benefit the customer, and this one has the particular advantage of saving time. Fine mahogany and glass cases run the whole length of the department, and thus goods are kept free from dust and ready to show at a moment's notice. Another feature of this very complete department, and one that will appeal to most women, is a new adjustable table.

Each plece of French linen, which is exto most women, is a new adjustable table.

Each piece of French linen, which is exquisitely fine, firm, and durable, is given a same, and, like their dainty, artistle designs, the names express a great deal. One pattern, called the "Belle Eglantine," shows on the beautiful texture sprays of wild roses interwoven with the Watteau bow. "Marie Antoinette" is a cloth of finest quality, bearing a design of garlands. All the various patterns, napkins, and tray cloths match in every respect, and the beauty and finesse of the workmanship is remarkable. "Belle Marguerite" is a linen with a plain centre and floral border of stones in natural texture. Centres of a small spot, with a lovely inner border, constitute another group of exceptional beauty. "Rose de Matin" is a beautiful free design. The prices for this exceptionally fine linen are as remarkable in cheapness as the designs are rich in quality,—New York Recorder.

PROVIDING FOR THE TROOPS.

More Pay for Sergenuts and Corporate-Washington, April is As it comes back from the Senate Committee, the bill to increase the pay of non-commissioned officers has had the proposed rate considerably out down. The Six per mouth proposed for Sergeant Majors and Quartermaster Sergeants of the three arms becomes $30; but even this is an increase of nearly a third over the present $23. For First Sergeants, also, $30 is proposed instead of $34, and that is an increase of one-fifth on the present pay. Sergeants in the three arms now receive $18, and are to have $23 instead of the proposed $25, and Corporals, now receiving $15, are to have $17 instead of the proposed $15, and the proposed $25, and Corporals, now receiving $15, are to have $17 instead of the proposed $15, and the proposed $25, and Corporals, now receiving $15, are to have $17 instead of the proposed $15, and the proposed $25, and Corporals, now receiving $15, are to have $17 instead of the proposed $15, and the State Laws and Canterns Target Practice.

general Government. Only the other day the complaint of the citrens of Grawford in Nebraska, that the Government was allowing injuries to be said at fort Bobieson without the application of State restrictions, resulted in the rosing of the post santeet, pending instructions from Secretary Lamont. Army officers usually do not like to allow some local sentiment unless their arbers so direct. Warrants had been bested by the county authorities to prevent the cathese mode against without the state increase and write for the configuration of such injures. These the whole question will have to be decided upon in relation not only to New York but to other States.

The bill compelling civilian witnesses to teatify, when brought before a court martial, is not likely to become a law at this session, the opposition to such a provision being strong.

Some time that still relates the revised artiflety regulations appear. The programme for small arms or infantry firing practice this year has been approved. The Beard on the subject consisted of Aud Bates, second infantry, Lieut. Col. Wilkoff. Niceteenth, and Capt. Mais, First, Practical position, are alone permitted, hamely, standing, kneeling, and lying pronein lying on the back being prohibited dreat attention has been given to the use of the new rife as a single loader, the margaine being employed only in skirmish firing close to an energy. No recommendation is made for holding competitions, and the degree of merit is about the head by the locumetive.
